Dear Dr. Lahm:

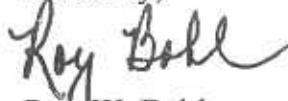

Congratulations! I am pleased to inform you that, due to your outstanding achievements in the Ph.D. in Human Resource Development program in the Andrew Young School of Policy Studies at Georgia State University, the Department of Public Administration and Urban Studies has selected you to receive the 2000 Award for Distinguished Contribution to HRD Research. This award recognizes a doctoral student selected by the faculty who has made or holds clear promise of making a significant contribution to the knowledge base of the Human Resource Development profession through original research. This year, you, Suzanne Butterfield and James Kirley will be co-recipients of the award.

The presentation of your award will take place at the fourth annual AYSPS Honors Dinner, to be held on Wednesday, March 22, in the Mills B. Lane Room of the Commerce Club. At this dinner, we will celebrate the successes of our students during the past year. Your invitation to this ceremony is enclosed.

We hope you can attend with a guest so we can recognize your academic achievement. If for some reason you are unable to attend the Honors Dinner, please let us know by March 14 so that we can make other arrangements to deliver your award. You may RSVP to the Office of Academic Assistance at (404) 651-3504.

Again, congratulations on your selection for this honor. We look forward to having you join us in this evening of celebration.

Sincerely,

Roy W. Bahl
Dean
